Friday evening the boys of N. H. S. met the Derby academy boys in basketball and overwhelmingly defeated them by a score of 72 to 11. This was the first game of the season and was excellently attended. A pleasant social followed and every body present had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Gale, who are enjoying a brief sojourn in Florida, write to friends here that they are enjoying the experience immensely. The weather is fine and the temperature runs from 70 in the morning to 80 or 85 in the middle of the day. Roses are in bloom and the general appearance is of midsummer. They expect to return December 1, when Mr. Gale will resume his duties as customs inspector on the night express from Sherbrooke and Quebec.

The rhetorical exercises at the high school Friday afternoon were of a high order and much enjoyed by the pupils and such outsiders as took the pains to attend. These exercises do not partake of the nature of an exhibition but are a part of the regular school work and their effect even on the more diffident pupils is already apparent. The scene at the "Rainbow" in Silas Marner, as portrayed by the young gentlemen of the second year in high school was well acted and exceedingly interesting. While room at the high school is at a premium this year, seats will be furnished to all who can find it convenient to attend these exercises.

The light snows with the perfect condition of the streets, have been productive of much fine coasting the past few days, particularly on Prospect street, starting on the hill near St. Mary's church. This locality has been confiscated by the younger element for the sport and they are in practically undisputed possession of it after nightfall. A few however, who cannot seem to enjoy prosperity, persist in taking an occasional slide on the sidewalks, much to the discomfort and perhaps danger of the public. Better let well enough alone, and not run the risk of being nabbed by the police of having the present liberal allowance of coasting cut off.

The management of the Newport High School basketball team have issued a neat schedule of games for this season, which shows enterprise on the part of the manager and of those who help boom the game by their "ads" on the schedule. The list of games as planned with dates thereof are as follows: Nov. 24, Derby Academy at Newport; Nov. 30, Newbury High at Newport; Dec. 8, Derby Academy at Derby Center; Dec. 29, People's Academy at Newport; Jan. 6, Littleton High at Newport; Jan. 12, Colby Academy at Newport; Jan. 19, F. C. Association at St. Johnsbury; Jan. 25, Lamotte Central Academy at Newport; Feb. 2, Newbury; Feb. 3, Colby Academy at New London, N. H.; Feb. 9, Goddard Seminary at Newport; Feb. 16, Richford High at Richford; Feb. 17, Littleton High at Littleton, N. H.; Feb. 22, Open date; Feb. 3, L. C. A. at Hyde Park; Mar. 2, Goddard at Barre; Mar. 8, F. C. Association at Newport. This gives sixteen games, half of which are on the home floor. The length of the schedule will make the boys busy night and day as the average in study must be maintained while the character of opponents will require much dexterity on our part to win the games. The boys are out to win in a decent, gentlemanly manner and we'll risk them from either standpoint—physical or intellectual. Walter D. Kipp is manager and Maurice Wilcox, captain.

The grand bazaar, held on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week by the Ladies' Social union at the Congregational church parlors was a well deserved success. The various committees having the work in charge exercised the best of judgment in the arrangement and decoration of the booths, and thanks to the contributing of an interested community these booths were well stocked and as well sold out. At the various booths might be purchased aprons, fancy goods, domestic articles, home cooked food, toilet accessories and homemade candy, all of which exercised the purchasing power of their customers to the limit, while the Chinese laundry and mystery boxes enticed the nickels from the younger element. The chicken pie supper on Tuesday evening was a crush, for although two hundred individual pies had been provided, many of the late comers had to be satisfied with plainer viands. The sale continued through Wednesday afternoon, while refreshments of tea, sandwiches and ice cream were served in the grill room in the basement. On Wednesday evening an entertainment was provided consisting of tableaux, musical numbers and the funny 20-minute sketch, "Packing a Missionary Barrel," which was well acted by the ladies participating and provoked much merriment. The odds and ends of unsold stock were sold at auction after the entertainment, C. F. Bigelow acting as auctioneer. The net proceeds of the bazaar was $300, which goes into the treasury of the Ladies' Social union for use in the furtherance of their very estimable lines of work. The affair was in charge of Mrs. (Dr.) H. T. Hamilton, who enjoyed the undivided support of all her committees. To the hard work of the ladies and the support of a sympathetic community the success of the affair is due.
